GREELEY, COLORADO

Greeley Fruit & Flower Gardens

We have been located at 1823 West Fifth Street, Greeley, Colo., for 20 years and our increasing business shows that we please our customers. We endeavor to keep our list of stock confined to such varieties as are best adapted to this section discarding such as after trial seem to do poorly here.

LANDSCAPE GARDENING

We are prepared to handle this class of work in a manner to please you. The making and seeding of lawns, laying out of drives, pruning trees, shrubs, etc., will be given careful attention. A fine tree, accidentally marred or broken could be saved if given the proper treatment in time.

All stock true to label . . . will replace all that is otherwise. Should anything be received that is not satisfactory, make complaint at once.

Get your stock early, it does much better . . . it is harder to start after the weather gets hot. We will be glad to have you visit our place . . . come in and see the flowers.

We have a certificate of inspection that all stock is free from disease.

PEONIES

Peonies will thrive in almost any soil and while no flower will give as satisfactory results with as little care they amply repay good care. They are suitable for nearly all places where a permanent, hardy plant is desired. Of late years they have been wonderfully improved and many new ones added. The following list contains some of the best varieties.

Plant in the fall if you are ready; if not, quite early in the spring will do. Cover bulbs one and one-half inches deep, do not place fertilizer around roots. Water well when set, not too much after. Shallow hoeing or cultivating around plants will hold moisture and keep out weeds.

DAHLIAS

A well known summer and autumn flowering plant growing from 3 to 6 feet high and producing a profusion of flowers ranging from purest white to darkest maroon. Our list contains some choice varieties from eastern growers.

Plant Dahlias 4 to 5 in. deep and 2 ft. apart, with rows 3 ft. apart. Plant only where they can be well hoed or cultivated. Do not plant too early. Dahlias can usually be planted from the 15th to the 20th of April but do well planted as late as the 20th of May. As soon as plants appear above the ground the soil should be made loose and mellow with hoe or rake. When two feet high or over, each one should be tied to a stake to prevent a possible breaking down by the wind.

The following is a partial list of the most desirable sorts.
